

Proposed Earth Dividend Distribution

These individual distributions are in Elsies based on $1,200/month in 2022 dollars. Unlike most modules, this module will show distributions with their 2022-dollar values. The dollar value of each distribution is an initial proposal that will be converted to Elsie with the first Earth Dividend during Phase I. After that, distribution values will be modified by ISO working groups and Voluntary Standards Groups before federation.

Once federation occurs, annual quadratic voting will allow the reallocation of funds from one category to another. A 10-year moving average tempers this to provide feedback on erroneous allocations without causing a major crisis. New categories can be added with the approval of 33% of the population.

Allocations to Earth Dividend categories motivate allocating productive resources to service the dividend. If funds for a particular category exceed the available resources, there will be inflation until resources arrive.

Because the Treasury releases funds to prevent inflation and deflation in a basket of goods, excluding rent, inflation in one area shows up as deflation elsewhere. This reallocates resources in keeping with the wishes of the quadratic voters.

Theory, discussed in the module Earth Dividend as Synthesis, says that the allocation toward private goods should never exceed twice that of public goods and services. Nor should they ever be less than public goods and services.

Quadratic voting is confined within these parameters. No funds beyond the $40 initial allocation can go to cash. However, new funds added by the Treasury can be allocated to cash.

The Treasury will add Elsie to the Earth Dividend when a ratio of intellectual property royalties to the Earth Dividend is exceeded, and deflation persists. Once Elsie has been added to the Earth Dividend by the Treasury, they can never be removed as they become a right.

Distributions from the VIP Treasury for monetary policy (intellectual property royalties) vary.

All distributions represent backpack funding. They move with the Earth Dividend holder.
